D'ANNUNZIO DECLARES WAR AGAINST ITALY; FIUME IS BLOCKADED

SIXTY DEAD, MUTINY TOLL IN ICHANG, IS LAST REPORT

Situation Is More Quiet Wire Received Here States

GUNBOATS NEAR

American And British Warships Due To Arrive Today

TROOPS EN ROUTE

Chinese Division Dispatched To Scene; Business At Standstill

Conditions in Ichang have become more settled and less apprehension is felt among the foreign community there, according to the latest word received from the Yangtsze city yesterday. The death roll is placed at over 60, but no estimate of property damage has been made.

According to these reports the mutinous troops, which had been looting the city and spreading terror through the surrounding district since November 29, have practically ceased their depredations and, while foreign gunboats and a division of Chinese troops are hurrying to the scene, the excitement is dying down.

BUSINESS HALTED

All business in Ichang is at a standstill, it was reported in a telegram received by the local offices of the Robert Dollar Company yesterday. The message stated that there was still some looting going on, but that it was far less general. Other local firms with branches in Ichang had no further information from the scene of the mutiny.

The first of the foreign gunboats which were hurried toward Ichang when news of the outbreak was flashed out are expected to arrive there today. The British gunboat Cricket or the U.S.S. Monocacy will probably be first to reach the city.

GUNBOATS ON WAY

The Monocacy was 124 miles below Chunking when orders to proceed to Ichang were received and, unless low water hampers her run, should be first on the scene. The Cricket was at anchor in Hankow when word was received and steamed immediately up the river. Two other British gunboats and one Japanese warship are on their way up-stream.

According to most recent news received here the troops involved in the mutiny were those of the 13th brigade. The reason for the outbreak, it is said, was the fact that the men have received no pay for the last nine months.

The following telegram from a staff correspondent was received last night, giving some details regarding the start of the affair and the destruction of foreign property:

(Staff Wire To THE CHINA PRESS*)*

Hankow, Dec. 2.—Because they had not received their pay for nine months, the former troops of Wu Kwan-hsin, the brother-in-law of Marshal Tuan, mutinied at midnight on the night of Nov 29. They looted the Bank of China and the Young Brothers Banking Corporation, and set fire to the Nissen Kissen Kaisha offices, offices of three other Japanese firms and the godown of Messrs. Arnhold Brothers and Company. The number of dead is placed at over 60.

Troops under the command of General Wang Mao-shang succeeded in quelling the rioters by daybreak of the 30th.

The British gunboats Cricket, Gnat and Woodcock, and the Japanese gunboat Fushimi are proceeding up river to offer protection to foreigners.

Hankow is startled as it is feared that the scheme was planned by Tuchun Wang Chuan-yuan against Hsia Shou-kang, the new Civil Governor.

Race Riot Prevented By Chicago Priest, Who Intervenes

Father Thomas Burke, pastor of St. Gabriel's Church in Chicago, who quickly stopped what might have been a race riot in Chicago by pleading with a mob to disperse. A white man in the colored district had been stabbed by three negroes. White men started out for revenge and chased three negroes, who ran into Father Burke's church. He urged them to depart without harming the negroes.

Two New Members Named For Council; No Election Needed

Mr. H. G. Simms And Mr. S. Sakuragi Added To Municipal Body

The two new members of the Municipal Council, who come into office without the necessity of an election, are Mr. H. G. Simms, of the North China Insurance Co., Ltd., and Mr. S. Sakuragi, of the South Manchurian Railway Company.

Only five names were submitted for the filling of the vacancies, three of them being renominations of retiring members. The nominations, which were closed yesterday, were occasioned by retirement of Messrs. H. H. Girardet, E. F. Mackey, W. P. Lambe, D. Goh and Dr. S. A. Ransom. Mr. Lambe and Mr. Goh are leaving Shanghai and the other three were retiring under the provisions of their election, all being renominated for election for the balance of the year.

The filling of the vacancies thus brings about no change in the nationality representation on the Council.

TROOPS AT URGA FACE HARDSHIPS

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, December 2.—It is estimated that there are between 10,000 and 15,000 Chinese troops at Urga, for which supplies are being sent, but it is doubtful whether sufficient can be transported to sustain the troops through the winter. There has been no fighting during the last ten days.

Vatican's Relations With France Renewed

(French Wireless Service)

Paris, December 1.—The Chamber of Deputies decided yesterday on a resumption of diplomatic relations with the Vatican. After hearing the Premier M. Leygues, it rejected by 375 votes to 229 an amendment to prevent the despatch of a Papal Nuncio to Paris and adopted the text of the original motion by 397 votes to 209.

After receiving the report of M. Maurice Colrat, the Chamber heard M. Oberkirsch who stated that the proposal had the approval of Alsace-Lorraine. M. Leygues pointed to the necessity of renewing relations with Rome in the political sphere. He recalled that in 1793 revolutionary France had an accredited representative at the Holy See, the Citizen Cacaud.

Boulon On Witness Stand In American Court Answers Charges Of Embezzlement

Trial Of Former Manager Of Gaston, Williams And Wigmore Will Be Resumed This Morning

Mr. Ferdinan G. Boulon, former manager of the Shanghai branch of Gaston, Williams and Wigmore, who is facing charges of embezzlement made against him by that firm, opened his defense yesterday in the United States Court for China before Judge C. S. Lobingier. Within an hour yesterday afternoon after the trial opened the prosecution closed its case, having introduced but a single witness, Mr. Charles Denby, former American Consul-General here, who has returned to Shanghai as a director of Gaston, Williams and Wigmore.

The course taken by the Government indicates that virtually its whole case against Mr. Boulon was presented at the preliminary hearing before United States Commissioner F. J. Schuhl, who held the accused for trial in the United States Court for China on seven of the original ten counts of the indictment.

The trial, which is to be resumed this morning, is centered upon two of the seven charges, the Government having elected to focus its efforts specifically on these two alleged offences which involve a number of highly technicl exchange transactions.

CNE NEW WITNESS

The prosecution's case, as presented in the week of November 8 before the U.S. Commissioner was reported in detail by THE CHINA PRESS at that time. The one additional witness who testified for the Government yesterday, Mr. Denby, told of a conference held by officials of Gaston, Williams and Wigmore here with Mr. Boulon. Mr. Denby said this conference was called to give Mr. Boulon a chance to explain certain irregularities in connection with business of the company here and told of statements he had made in connection with exchange transactions.

When the trial opened the stipulation that the transcript of the Government's case as presented before the U.S. Commissioner was accepted by both sides. Judge Lobingier required that this be signed by the defendant and the Court also required of the defense that it waive certain questions touching on objections.

STATEMENTS MADE

Judge Lobingier then called on the attorneys in the case for statements, explaining that it was coming before the court as a wholly new case. Mr. William S. Fleming who is assisting Maj. C. P. Holcomb, United States District Attorney, in the prosecution took the active part on this side yesterday as Major Holcomb was suffering from a heavy cold. In his statement to the court he referred to transactions that had been carried out by the accused while managing the company's Shanghai branch, charging that Mr. Boulon had used the firm's credit and funds in putting through transactions from which he took the profit.

Mr. R. S. Haskell replied, in his address defining the crime of embezzlement and entering a general denial of the charges made. After Mr. Denby left the stand the prosecution announced that its case was closed and Mr. Boulon was called as first witness in his own defense. In response to a question of the Court Mr. Haskell said that while he could not say definitely at the time, he thought that Mr. Boulon would be the only witness the defense would call.

BOULON ON STAND

After testifying as to reasons exchange was bought by firms, procedure in buying it, and identifying various contracts under the charges, identifying his initials and notations thereon, and stating that all these contracts were entered into for his own benefit and that the firm had no claim on them, Boulon testified as follows:

Q—You are charged here with embezzling the sum of Tls. 12,250.54

A—I am.

Q—Can you tell us how that amount was arrived at?

A—Tls. 1,731.89 was credited to my account on April 13 or 14, 1919. Tls. 969.39 had been credited to Yea Kong, Tls. 7,138.78 was credited to Yung Tai Chang, Tls. 2,239.96 was

The charge that Bolshevism is part of a conspiracy of Jews and Freemasons to obtain world domination is denounced as a malicious invention.

PEKING REJECTS SUGGESTIONS OF FOREIGN CORPS

Reply Is Sent To Proposals Made In Connection With Russian Question

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, December 2.—The Waichiaopu has sent a lengthy reply to the Note from the Diplomatic Corps relating to the Russian Legation and consulates.

The reply deals seriatim with the suggestions made by the Corps, and may be described as a polite rejection of them. The main contention is that China is doing what is right and just towards the Russians, but makes an important point in connection with the Russian law courts in the Chinese Eastern Railway zone, contending that these were not established in accordance with any provisions in the C. E. R. agreement or treaty; adding that, prior to the suspension of the status of the Legation and consulates, the matter was discussed with the Russian Consul at Harbin, and agreement reached for their abolition.

British Ambassador Assumes Paris Post

(French Wireless Service)

Paris, December 1.—Lord Hardinge, the new British Ambassador to France, presented his credentials to the President of the Republic yesterday afternoon.

After recalling the fact that six hundred thousand British soldiers lay in the plains of Flanders and Picardy, Lord Hardinge invoked the memory of King Edward's visit to Paris in 1903 when the foundations of the Entente Cordiale were laid. The new Ambassador himself accompanied the late King on that occasion.

URGENT CALL OUT, ASK MORE FUNDS FOR FAMINE AID

Local Committee Needs Money At Once To Buy Grain

FEAR PRICE WILL GO UP

Closing In Of Winter, Hindering Communications, Also Factor

Urgent appeal for more funds—funds immediately available for the purchase of grain in Manchuria before the price goes up and before the cold weather slows down communications with the famine stricken areas—is being made by the Chinese Foreign Famine Relief Committee.

The Committee desires to vote a further sum for the purchase of grain without delay, quick action being necessary. It is pointed out that the sum of $1.80 is sufficient to provide food for one person in the famine district for one month. Clothing for the suffering famine victims, who have already been severely hit by the approach of winter, is very urgently needed also, but the great cry is for the providing of grain.

GRAIN BADLY NEEDED

Each week heretofore the Committee has been in a position to vote sums for the purchase of grain in Manchuria and the Tientsin Famine Relief Society is handling this matter for the local body. Most of this grain is being sent to such badly affected areas as Hokienfu, Tsangchow, Siaochang, Wuting, Chiaoho, Paotingfu, Chengtingfu and the like. In all some 2,800 tons of grain are being sent—in addition to a first purchase of $100,000 worth of seed and grain now being disbursed under care of the Tientsin Distribution Board, of which the Rev. F. B. Turner is chairman.

$50,000 GRANT MADE

At the first weekly meeting of the General Committee a grant of $50,000 to the Honan Famine Relief Committee was passed, per the Rev. G. E. Simmons, treasurer, Kaifengfu. $40,000 of this is to go to relief work in North Honan and $10,000 to West Honan.

A further grant of $20,000 was made to the Shantung Famine Relief Society, per the chairman, Consul J. T. Pratt, of Tsinanfu.

Fresh accounts of the suffering in the region around Tehchow and across the border in Chihli province have been brought back to Shanghai by Bishop Lambuth, who just returned from visiting in that section. His report lends emphasis to the cry for a speeding up of the relief work before the coldest weather comes.

WOMEN'S SOCIETY REPORTS

Auctioning of any saleable articles in aid of the famine relief fund is being arranged by the Women's Famine Relief Society and a circular has been posted to all householders through the kindness of Messrs. L. Moore and Co., stating that they will collect from houses and firms any saleable goods, on receipt of instructions, and will auction them off for the Women's Famine Relief Society fund.

The working parties are in progress, and besides the names of the ladies given in the last report, Mrs. Nichols of St. John's College, Jessfield, is organising a party, and the Members of the American Women's College Club are kindly giving their co-operation.

The girls at the Door of Hope have offered to make 25 padded garments in their free time. This kind offer has been accepted.

Three cases of old clothing were despatched on Tuesday last. It is hoped to be able to pack on Mondays and Fridays and old clothing is urgently needed.

WILL RECEIVE CLOTHING

The following ladies have kindly offered to receive clothing:

Mrs. G. E. Tucker, 5 Peking Road; Mrs. A. J. Welch, 5 Ferry Road; Mrs. Burton Sayer, 392 Great Western Road; Mrs. H. E. Shadgett, 27 Route Doumer; Mrs. MacGillivray, Canadian Presbyterian Mission, 143 North Szechuen Road.

Old curtains, blankets, rugs, woollen materials, and old linen for hospitals, are especially needed, and anything that will help to keep out the penetrating cold of the Northern Provinces.

All cases are consigned direct to the International Relief Committee at Hankow, and are forwarded by them to the famine districts, where they are received by the Canadian Presbyterian Mission and the China Inland Mission, and

WILSON TELLS LEAGUE HE WILL ACT FOR ARMENIA

Assures Council Of Personal Mediation To End Hostilities

VOTE TO ADMIT AUSTRIA

Report Of Proceedings Of Assembly At Geneva Is Issued

(By Wireless)

Geneva, Dec. 1.—The League of Nations Council accepted all three offers for mediation between the Kemalists and Armenia coming from President Wilson, Premier Dato of Spain and Foreign Minister Marquez of Brazil, according to the New York Times. It is the idea here that representatives from each of the countries will be named to form a mediation commission and that the American representative will occupy a "special position" which is taken to mean that America will act as Chairman.

The expression "personal mediation" in President Wilson's reply caused some comment. Mr. Balfour said tonight that he supposed it meant an offer of mediation from the United States Government while Mr. Viviani thought it meant a personal offer from the President.

DRAFTING LETTER

A letter to President Wilson accepting his offer to act as mediator in Armenia is being drafted by the League of Nations Council. The President's note was received this morning and read before the Council. It was announced that Spain and Brazil offered to join President Wilson in his role of mediator.

Evidence of the liveliest satisfaction was shown by the Council over the President's acceptance. Austria was unanimously voted a member of the League of Nations by the Committee for the admission of new States. It is expected that the League Assembly will ratify the vote.

The Council unanimously approved the invitation drawn up by the Military Commission calling on the United States to name a representative to sit on the Commission.

REPORT IS ISSUED

(Reuter's Service)

Bordeaux, Dec. 1 (by wireless to Kouraza).—The following is the text of a French official report of today's proceedings of the League of Nations Assembly at Geneva:

The Council of the League of Nations met this morning. It has received telegrams from the President of the United States, the Brazilian Minister for Foreign Affairs and the Spanish Premier, accepting the Council's invitation to take steps to put an end to hostilities between Armenia and the Kemalists.

President Wilson's telegram is couched as follows:

"You offer the United States an opportunity to undertake a humanitarian task by using their good offices to terminate the Armenian tragedy. You give the assurance that this proposal in no way implies a renewal of the invitation to accept the Armenian mandate which was previously declined by the American Senate.

"The United States have often expressed their solicitude for the welfare of Armenia. You are justified in saying that the American people has always taken a special interest in Armenia's fate.

"Not being authorised to offer or employ American military forces to assist Armenia, and, as material aid requires the authorisation of Congress, nevertheless, being assured of the moral and diplomatic support of the principal Powers, and desiring to reply sympathetically to the request of the Council of the League of Nations, I am ready to use my good offices and to offer my personal mediation through a representative appointed by me, in order to put an end to the present hostilities against the Armenian people and establish peace and accord between both parties.

ASKS SUGGESTIONS

"I rely on the Council of the League of Nations to suggest through what channel my offer should be directed and to what parties it should be addressed."

The telegram from Senor Dato, the Spanish Premier, says:

"The Spanish Government, although removed from the circumstances connected with the sad

Rome, Dec. 1.—The proclamation of General Caviglia to D'Annunzio said it was the intention of the Government to enforce the Rapallo Treaty without delay.

Fiume, Dec. 1.—Expecting an ultimatum from General Caviglia at any time the D'Annunzio forces are in a state of feverish activity. The troops are making excursions to the outposts of the Regulars capturing occasional small groups of soldiers.

Intermittent rifle firing is in progress but without serious consequences. D'Annunzio is constantly busy in conferences. A journalist asked a question of a young officer who excused himself with the remark: "We are extremely busy. We are at war."

NAUEN WIRELESS REPORTS ACTION OF BERLIN DIET

Bill Embodying New Prussian Constitution Passes Its Third Reading

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Shanghai, December 2.—The following German propaganda wireless messages from Nauen have been picked up locally. They are issued with all due reserve.

Berlin, December 1.—The Prussian Diet passed the third reading of the bill embodying the new Prussian constitution against the votes of the German Nationalists and the new Communistic Party.

The German People's Party consented to a Republican form of Government in order that no obstacle might be offered to the reconstruction of the Fatherland. Similar faithful co-operation with the Government was recently promised by the German Democratic Party when it assembled at Hanover.

Berlin, December 1.—Before the Main Committee of the Prussian Diet the Minister of Education, Herr Haenisch, declared that both the Government and the industries of the country would be requested to relieve the present distress of German artists, following the example of the relief accorded to German science.

Are You Working On Your Story?

Christmas Money Contest For Children

THE CHINA PRESS wants some short stories for its forthcoming Christmas numbers, December 12 and 19 and it wants them from children between the ages of 10 and 16. Here are the details:

The children are to be separated into two classes, Junior and Senior.

Junior: Children 10, 11 and 12 years old.

Senior: Children 13, 14, 15 and 16 years old.

In the Junior Class the stories must run from 500 to 1,000 words.

In the Senior Class the stories must run from 700 to 1,500 words.

The prizes in each class will be the same:

First Prize $25: Second Prize $15: Third Prize $10.

All the stories must be in THE CHINA PRESS office by noon, Wednesday, December 8.

Contestants, therefore, are not given very much time and those intending to compete are urged to get busy at once.

The stories must be written on one side of the paper, must be in ink and must be legible. Of course if any of the contestants have typewriters they may use them.

The stories must have something to do with Christmas, and the scene must be laid in China. Anecdotes are not wanted. This is a short story contest, a fiction contest. Each story must have characters and a plot.

In addition to the prizes offered, a total of $100, THE CHINA PRESS will pay $5 each for all other stories used.

A WORD TO PARENTS: If your children have shown any inclination towards literature, try them out in this contest. It is not only a Christmas Money Contest. It is of distinct educational value.

LORDS PASS BILL FOR IRISH SENATE

Government Is Defeated When Amendment Comes Up; Casualties Grow

(By Wireless)

London, December 1.—A total of 673 persons have been killed or wounded in Ireland prior to November 27 by the Anti-Government element, a Home Office statement says. This does not include 20 killed in Londonderry, 62 in Belfast and 15 cadets in Kilmichael.

Restiveness of the unemployed, coupled with the lack of housing led several hundred men to seize the townhall of Edmonton, a suburb, though no violence was reported. The townhall of Tottenham, seized yesterday, was evacuated today.

The Government was defeated in the House of Lords when the amendment to the Irish bill providing for the establishment of a Senate for southern Ireland was carried against the Government by 130 to 36.

SHOPS BURNED

Cork, December 1.—Two more shops were burned last night attended by considerable shooting. "Whose place will be the next to go?" is the question business men are asking each other as one by one their shops are burned. If the destruction continues the business district will be wiped out. There is a marked exodus of the people to the country.

Dublin, December 1.—Professor McNeil, a Sinn Fein member of Parliament was arrested. The day after his release from prison, his two sons were imprisoned.

RIOT IN NEW YORK

(Reuter's Service)

New York, December 1.—An Associated Press telegram reports that the English police have discovered a small bomb at Marshfield, four and a-half miles southwest in Newport, Monmouthshire. Another bomb has been found at Tunney, in the borough of Cardiff.

New York, November 29.—An attempt by Sinn Feiners to tear down a Union Jack displayed at the Union Club developed into a riot.

The crowd hurled bricks, which smashed all the windows. Strong police forces were brought to the scene, and eventually dispersed the gathering by means of baton charges.

The papers unite in angrily condemning yesterday's riot, which they describe as anarchy.

S.V.C. ENTERTAINS AT THE TOWN HALL

Many Out To Enjoy Program At Annual Prize Distribution

The Town Hall took on a gala, cafe, aspect last night as the members of the Shanghai Volunteer Corps and their relatives and friends gathered for the annual concert and distribution of prizes.

The hall was draped with the flags of the various nationalities represented in the personnel of the corps and the handsome collection of trophies—prizes competed for at the annual rifle meeting—were strikingly displayed on the stage which had been erected at the North side of the drill room. The volunteers and their guests sat in groups about the tables with which the big hall had been filled and an efficient corps of "boys" dispensed refreshments. The hall was filled to capacity.

The program this year was pleasingly varied. The British Amateur Orchestra and the Portuguese Company's string band rendered a number of excellent selections and there were some finely rendered songs by Mrs. Mathieson, Mrs. Godby and Sergt. Britto, while the brothers Silas were as genuinely entertaining as ever. Private Dearn and "Jimmy" provided another happy interlude and "B" Company's "returned quartette" did some good vocal work.

The prizes were distributed by Mrs. A. Brooke-Smith and there were appropriate speeches by Col. Johnson and Major S. A. Ransom, who acted as master of ceremonies.

situation in Armenia, regards with the deepest sympathy that unhappy people, the victim of so much of suffering, and although the Spanish Government cannot exactly appreciate the scope of the terms of the Assembly's resolution, it desires to state that it would willingly contribute any action of a moral and diplomatic nature directed towards the peaceful goal which has been pursued with so much zeal and devotion by the League of Nations."

The telegram from Senhor Azevedo Marques, Brazilian Minister for Foreign Affairs, states:

"The Brazilian Government is ready to contribute alone, or jointly with other Powers, towards terminating the distressing situation in Armenia."

The Council also received a telegram from the head of the League of Nations Mission announcing the signature at Kovno of a protocol providing for the cessation of hostilities between Poland and Lithuania.

INVITES AMERICA

On the unanimous proposal of the Consultative Military, Naval and Air Commision, the Council decided to invite the United States Government to appoint a representative to attend this Commission in a consultative capacity, during the examination of the question of reduction of armaments, which will be promptly taken up by the Council after the Commission has reported.

In forwarding this invitation to the American Government, the Council points out that it takes due account of the attitude of the United States whenever the question of slackening the construction of armaments comes up. The Council adds that the collaboration of the United States on the Commission would not prejudice their freedom of action.

(French Wireless Service)

Geneva, Dec. 1.—The fifth commission of the League of Nations, on admissions to the League, met this morning in the Council Chamber of the League.

On the recommendation of Lord Robert Cecil, South Africa, and Mr. H. A. L. Fisher, Great Britain, it decided unanimously to report favorably to the assembly on the application of Austria for admission to the League.

MEXICO APATHETIC

Mexico City, Dec. 1.—President Obregon, in the course of an interview, stated that Mexico will not ask for admission to the League of Nations, but if invited she will consider the question of acceptance. He discussed the problems demanding the attention of the Government, including petroleum regulations, labor and Radicalism.

Paris, Dec. 1.—According to advices published in the Temps, the statement that, following the pourparlers of the past few days, a new armistice has just been concluded between the Kemalists and Armenians, is confirmed.

London, Nov. 30.—The Chinese delegate on the Armaments Commission was among the supporters of the proposal made by Senhor da Cunha (Brazil) that the manufacture of arms should be a monopoly of Governments. The discussion was adjourned.

Paris, Nov. 28 (Delayed).—M. Raynaud, member of the Chamber of Deputies, and president of the "France and Islam Committee," has telegraphed to the French Premier, now in London, acquainting him with a motion, just carried unanimously by that Committee, insisting upon the revision of the Treaty of Sevres, and the reorganisation of Turkey as an independent state. M. Franklin Douillon, a former Minister, writing to the Matin, expresses a similar opinion.

Is Your Blood Starving For Want of Iron

—the Red Blood Food that helps give Strength and Energy?

"You're terribly run-down, John—weak, nervous and constantly out-of-sorts. You ought to try Nuxated Iron to build up your strength and vitality—and help get back the power and energy that win."

Are you worried, weak, nervous and constantly tired out? Are you totally unable to enjoy your home and social life and unfit to meet each day's work with the force and energy that lead to success?

If you are in this condition, take a short course of Nuxated Iron and note its strength-giving, upbuilding effect. You will be astonished at the results, for Nuxated Iron increases the energy and endurance of weak, nervous, run-down folks in two weeks' time in many instances.

THOUSANDS of people are held back in life through lack of sufficient iron in the blood. Iron deficiency, the widespread ailment among American men and women of today, is doubly alarming because so many folks who are weak, nervous and run-down are suffering from this condition and little suspect the real and true cause of their trouble.

Iron is absolutely essential to enable the blood to transform the food you eat into muscular, nerve and brain tissue. It is through iron in the red coloring matter of the blood that life sustaining oxygen enters the body. Without iron there is no strength, vitality and endurance to combat obstacles and to withstand severe strains. Lack of sufficient iron has ruined many a man's nerves and utterly robbed him of that virile force and stamina which are so necessary to success and power in every walk of life.

Success and the full enjoyment of home and social life depend so greatly upon health that you cannot afford to be without the strength, endurance, steady nerves and forceful energy which come from having plenty of iron in the blood. A weak body means a weakened brain; weak nerve force means weakened will power and, like the sprinter beaten by a length, many a capable man or woman falls just short of winning because they don't back up their mentality with the physical strength and energy which go along with rich, red, healthy blood—full of iron. That irritable twitch, that fit of despondency, that dizzy fearful feeling—these are the sort of signals Nature gives to tired, listless folks when the blood is clamoring for strength-giving iron—more iron to restore the health by enriching the blood and creating thousands of new red blood cells.

Therefore, you fellows who lack that robust color; who are nervous, weak and run-down and who feel the need of a strength and blood builder—get a prescription from your physician for organic iron, Nuxated Iron, or if you don't want to go to that trouble, then secure Nuxated Iron from your druggist only in its original package. Be sure that this name (Nuxated Iron) appears on the package. If you have taken other iron products and failed to get results, remember that such preparations are an entirely different thing from Nuxated Iron, the extraordinary merit of which is attested by the fact that it is used by more than three million people annually.

Not only is Nuxated Iron extremely beneficial for weak, run-down men, but also for women who are careworn, tired out and nerve-racked through lack of iron in the blood. Many a woman who is pale and haggard, with nerves on edge and little energy or strength to meet the day's tasks is simply suffering from iron deficiency and does not realize it. For such women, who would have the rosy cheeks of health and the endurance and vitality so necessary to well-being, Nuxated Iron may be a veritable boon, as it will increase their energy and power in a surprisingly short time, in many instances and make them look years younger.

Many men and women foolishly seem to think they are going to get renewed health and strength from some stimulating medicine, secret nostrum or narcotic drug, when as a fact, real and true strength can only come from the food you eat. But people often fail to get the strength out of their food because they haven't enough iron in their blood to enable it to change food into living tissue. From their weakened, nervous condition they know something is wrong but they can't tell what. If you are not strong or well, you owe it to yourself to make the following test: See how long you can work or how far you can walk without becoming tired. Next take two five-grain tablets of Nuxated Iron three times per day after meals for two weeks. Then test your strength again and see for yourself how much you have gained. Numbers of run-down, nervous people who were ailing all the time have most astonishingly increased their strength and endurance simply by taking Nuxated Iron—and this, in some cases, after they had been doctoring for months without obtaining any benefit.

MANUFACTURERS' NOTE: Nuxated Iron is not a secret remedy but one which is well known to druggists everywhere. Unlike the older inorganic iron products it is easily assimilated, does not injure the teeth, make them black nor upset the stomach. The manufacturers guarantee successful and entirely satisfactory results to every purchaser or they will refund your money. Nuxated Iron is dispensed by all good druggists. Jap Legation Publishes Notes Exchanged Over Escape Of Little Hsu

The Japanese Legation is making the exchange of notes with the Chinese Foreign Office regarding the escape from the Japanese Legation of the political refugee, Hsu Shu-tseng, public.

The notes are as follows:

From the Japanese Minister to the Chinese Minister of Foreign Affairs (dated November 27, 1920).

Monsieur le Ministre,

Acknowledging the receipt of Your Excellency's Note, dated November 20, replying to my Note dated November 16 on the subject of the escape of Mr. Hsu Shu-tseng from the compound of the Japanese Legation Guard, I have the honor to inform you that having immediately telegraphed the contents of your Note under acknowledgment to my Government, I am now in receipt of instructions from them directing me to communicate to you their reply as follows:

It is first of all a source of regret to my Government that your Note contains many points which appear to them to originate in mis construction on the part of your Government of my previous communications in connection with th asylum given to Mr. Hsu and the eight others.

It should be recalled that Mr. Hsu and the others all came spontaneously to this Legation and requested protection, and that it was solely in compliance with this request, in view of international practice well established especially in China, that I gave them shelter in the Legation Guard compound. If, therefore, any one of them should now spontaneously withdraw the original request for refuge and venture to run the risk of being arrested by leaving the protection of this Legation there would be no reason why this Legation should forcibly prevent them from doing so. Indeed it is highly impermissible so long as they are in the compound of this Legation that they should take advantage of the protection of this Legation to make the place a basis of intrigue. That is why they were strictly warned immediately on their arrival to refrain from concerning themselves in politics and were placed during their sojourn in isolation from outside, and this practice has since been faithfully observed. It is evident that the Legation cannot go any farther and place them under personal restriction by means of confinement or otherwise. From the above considerations and from the fact that Mr. Hsu hoodwinked the Legation Guard Authorities and effected his escape without regard for the advice of this Legation it will be clearly seen that there is no reason whatever why my Government or I should be held responsible for this incident, while indeed the Chinese police forces guarding every gate of the Legation Quarter should now feel their greater burden of responsibility. It should also be made clear on the other hand that in the real nature of things I found myself under no legal obligation to inform you of Mr. Hsu's escape. I was, however, only too pleased in view solely of the friendly relations between our two countries to communicate to you all the bare facts pertaining to his escape, in the same spirit as I had informed you of their refuge in this Legation. The communication was sent in without delay after careful examination of the circumstances prior and subsequent to his escape for the sake of thoroughness. As regards 1 and 2 of the proposals set forth in Your Excellency's Note, therefore, no question of responsibility toward your Government arises.

3. It should be noted that since it is clear from the above that I had no right or obligation to stop the escape of Mr. Hsu the situation, as far as he is concerned, is quite the same now after his escape as that before his arrival in this Legation There is, therefore, no reason why my Government should be held responsible for anything which may take place in future. Moreover I cannot find myself in a position to state anything about suth hypothetical cases as stated in your Note. At the same time it is of course the most earnest hope of my Government, from the point of view of friendly relationship between our two neighboring countries, that the apprehension now entertained by your Government will never be realized.

4. It is quite plain that the right course of policy which underlay the action of this Legation in giving shelter to these gentlemen, in the light of common humanity, of general international practice and many precedents can in no wise be affected by the single fact of the escape of Mr. Hsu. In the event of the remaining eight cancelling the request which they first made to me so that they may stand outside the protection of this Legation it would be impossible, for me as already stated, forcibly to prevent them from doing so. If precaution is deemed necessary the only way open to your Government would be to encourage your police to provide against contingencies. In any way it is not incumbent upon this Legation to hand over the eight gentlemen in question. It may further be added that this Legation will continue as long as those eight gentlemen are under the protection of this Legation to place them in isolation from outside and prevent them from concerning themselves in politics. This does not mean for a moment the confinement of these gentlemen on behalf of your Government, nor indeed could this Legation be in a position to confine them.

As I thought this too self-evident to sate in particular when I replied to your Note of August 22 by which you requested me to refrain from allowing the refugees to get free or from conducting them to any other place of hiding I simply stated that I could not consent to the handing over of those gentlemen. I now trust that this point will no longer be misunderstood by your Government.

I avail, etc.

From the Chinese Minister of Foreign Affairs to the Japanese Minister (dated Peking, November 20, 1920).

Monsieur le Minister,

By Your Excellency's Note under date of November 16 you inform me, to my great astonishment, that Hsu Shu-cheng who had been given shelter in your Legation Guard compound made his escape from there between the night of the 14th. inst. and the morning of the 15th.

It will be recalled that, upon receipt of Your Excellency's Note of August 9th., informing me that Hsu Shu-cheng had taken refuge in your Legation Guard compound, this Ministry requested Your Excellency under date of August 22 that a Mandate having been issued for the arrest of Hsu Shu-cheng, Tseng Yu-chun and others owing to their grave military and criminal offences, you would see your way to facilitate their prosecution by refraining from allowing them to get free or from conducting them to any other place of hiding. In view of the above, and furthermore of Your Excellency's Note of August 9, in which it was declared that they had been strictly warned entirely to refrain in this place of shelter from concerning themselves in politics, and that they were placed in entire isolation from outside, it is not only a matter of surprise for my Government but it is also clearly at variance with what was declared in Your Excellency's Note, that Hsu Shu-cheng should have effected his escape as he did.

Besides your Note under reply states that Hsu had of late repeatedly communicated to Your Excellency his desire to withdraw his original request for refuge and to leave Your Legation. It is obvious that his intention was to escape, and therefore your Legation Guard ought to have exercised vigilance and to have taken the precautionary measures necessary to prevent his escape. It is also difficult to understand how the communication of your Legation reached this Ministry as late as the afternoon of the 16th instant, in spite of the fact that Hsu had escaped between the night of the 14th and the morning of the 15th instant.

In consideration of the above, I now have the honor to lay before Your Excellency the following four proposals with some explanations:

1. By the statement in Your Excellency's Note that Hsu and the others were warned entirely to refrain from concerning themselves in politics and that they were placed in isolation from outside, your Legation undertook the full responsibility of surveillance. Now having allowed this prominent figure to effect his escape. Your Legation has proved itself incapable of keeping its word, and you are therefore requested to convey by an official Note an expression of regret to my Government, to whom your Legation is thus held responsible.

2. Your Legation Guard had the duty of keeping watch on Hsu and the others, and yet it took no notice of signs of his intention to escape prior to the incident, and merely reported the matter to Your Excellency after the event in words of surmise. It is thus very clear that the Legation Guard, lacking vigilance, could not fulfil its duties. It is requested, therefore, that adequate punishment should be inflicted.

3. Hsu having escaped at such an important juncture as the present, your Government should be responsible for the occurrence of any undesirable incident, disturbance of local peace and order or obstruction of international relations which may be caused in the future by his activities in the sphere of influence of your country in or outside of China.

4. Your Legation having already failed to fulfil its duty of keeping watch on Hsu with the result that he escaped it is not desirable that the other eight should any longer be detained in your Legation Guard compound. It is therefore requested that a solution should be facilitated by handing them over, as already solicited, to my Government.

I may add that Mr. Hu, Minister in Tokio, is instructed to approach your Government with a communication to the same effect.

I avail, etc.

KILLING OF JAPS PROMPTS CONSUL TO SEEK TUCHUN

The Hankow Japanese Consul-General, who recently proceeded to Changsha to negotiate with General Tan regarding the killing of Japanese subjects by the Hunanese troops during their advance and occupation of the province last summer, reports that, finding Tan Yen-kai deposed, he obtained an audience with the new Governor, Tsao Hung-ti, regarding the matter. Tsao pleaded that he had not yet had time to familiarise himself with the circumstances regarding the incident, and promised to discuss the matter with the Consul-General later. The Consul-General is remaining in Changsha to obtain, if possible, a speedy local settlement of the incident.

Peking Ball Nets $19,000 For Famine Relief Fund

Peking, Nov. 29.—Mrs. L. M. Gulick, Chairman of the Committee which arranged the Grand Famine Relief Ball held at the Peking Hotel on Thanksgiving night, announces that the net proceeds of the ball, which will go directly to the relief of the suffering, are $19,000.

The carpet given by Mr. Tang Shao-yi to Minister Crane to be raffled brought $1,100. It was won by M. Pleau, of the Kin-Han Railway Administration, on ticket No 429.

TELLS OF SUFFERING

(China Press Correspondence)

Sung Kiang, Ku., Dec. 1.—The Sung Kiang missionaries were favored by a visit from Bishop W. R. Lambuth, yesterday. Bishop Lambuth has recently visited the famine area and brought samples of the food eaten there, back with him. Leaves, thistles, chaff and the like, are the only things left in most localities and the people have simply resigned themselves to the inevitable.

Some have purchased their own coffins and are just waiting for death to come. The bishop gave an address to the students of the mission schools and showed them the food he had with him. It is hoped that his address will bring greater results in the collections made for famine relief.

JAPAN WATCHES CHITA DISCUSSION

Chief Of Staff Declares Unification Means Break In Relations

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Vladivostok, December 1.—The local assembly is holding daily sessions to discuss the question of dissolution and unification with Chita, but up to the present no decision has been reached. Several Bolshevik agitators have arrived from Chita and are trying to persuade the peasants to vote for the dissolution of the local assembly and recognition of the Chita Government, and a communist speaker has stated that in case the general election resulted in a victory for the right bloc, the Bolsheviki would disband the Parliament.

The Japanese are watching events with interest. The Japanese Chief of Staff has informed the Russian authorities that since Japan has not established official intercourse with Chita, in case Vladivostok endorses unreserved unification and dissolution of its Assembly, a complete interruption of relations between the Japanese and Vladivostok and Chita will follow. An order from Chita might countermand existing agreements, he added, the Japanese would take what steps were necessary for their self-protection and would decline responsibility for any regrettable results which might follow.

SEMENOFF MOVES

Harbin, December 1.—Ataman Semenoff has reached Grodekovo.

The Chinese authorities have forbidden the Workmen's Conference from holding political meetings, and similar action has been taken with regard to all other political groups.

The Conference has appealed to the Kappelites and Semenoffites pointing out that they have been the tools of political intrigue and that further action could merely lead to useless bloodshed.

There is no reason to expect a strike on the Chinese Eastern Railway, as the workmen themselves are opposed to it.

TROOPS IN MANCHURIA

Peking, Nov. 29.—Telegrams from Harbin dated the twenty-seventh indicate that the remnants of Semenoff's army, after escaping from the pursuing Far Eastern army across the northern end of Manchuria, are joining up with the Ussuri Cossacks at Grodekovo, where, with Japanese support, they are forming a new anti-Bolshevik army. Harbin still remains the base of supplies, and it is reported that the Japanese military there are using pressure to force Russian officers who have taken refuge there to join up with the new army.

Kvanoschekeff has telegraphed to the Chinese military authorities at Manchuli guaranteeing that no soldier of his will set foot across the Chinese border. The rearguard of Semenoff's army, consisting of the third battalion under Molchanoff, has after desperate fighting and heavy losses, reached Manchuli, the Bolshevik army having massed behind it to cut off any attempt to return to the west. Chinese forces are guarding the arms warehouses in Manchuli, which is quiet. The troops garrisoning Manchuli are said to be well-disciplined and superior to the Semenoff forces. The latter have agreed to hand over their arms to the Chinese on condition that the same be returned to them when they leave Chinese soil at the opposite end of the railway.

Peking, December 2.—It is reported from Harbin that passengers on the trains are being searched for silver, gold, ornaments and other valuables.

(Reuter's Service)

London, Nov. 30.—A Helsingfors telegram states that, according to the Isvestia, 4,000 Chinese, formerly engaged in Manchuria, have arrived in Moscow to form a picked regiment to guard the Kremlin.

ALBANIAN IS FREED

(French Wireless Service)

Paris, December 1.—The Jury in the Seine Assize Court found that the crime of Aveni Rustem, who killed General Essad Pasha, was prompted by political frenzy, and acquitted the young Albanian student after hearing the plea of his counsel, M. de Monzie.

BEAVER BOARD
FOR BETTER WALLS & CEILINGS

Solid Comfort, Hot or Cold

Within Beaver Board walls and ceilings there's solid comfort. The closely-meshed pure spruce fibre of this good lumber product resists heat, cold and sound better than lath and plaster or other wall building materials.

You don't have to depend on outside labor for building Beaver Board walls and ceilings. Beaver Board is quickly nailed to the studding of new buildings or partitions or directly over old cracked plaster and dingy wall paper.

Beaver Board has endless uses about the farm. It's just the thing to line your work shop and it's even better for the building of a beautiful new room in some waste space in the house.

In a new booklet, "Building More Comfort into the Farm Home," you'll find many suggestions. It's free, together with an actual piece of Beaver Board, if you ask us.

YOU can't expect Beaver Board results unless this trade-mark is on the back of the board you buy.

JESS WILLARD SIGNED TO FIGHT WINNER OF DEMPSEY-BRENNAN GO; BOUT IS SET FOR 17TH OF MARCH

Former Champion Will Attem pt Comeback And Rickard Is To Stage Scrap At New York; Dempsey And Brennan Meet December 14

(By Wireless)

New York, December 1.—Jess Willard, former heavyweight champion of the world, is to fight the winner of the Jack Dempsey-Bill Brennan bout, Tex Rickard announced today. Rickard also announced that he has received the signed contracts of all concerned.

The winner of the Dempsey-Brennan scrap is to meet the ex-world's champion on March 17 and the bout is to be held in New York City. Rickard gave out no further details. The amount of the purse was not mentioned. Dempsey fights Brennan on December 14.

This means that Dempsey and Willard will fight again if the New York State Boxing Commission allows the bout to go on. After the three-round fiasco at Toledo a year ago last Fourth of July it is very probable the men in charge of the ring game in New York will put their foot down and refuse to allow a repetition.

That the match has been in the air for some time is seen from the following clipping, dated New York, October 31;

Promoters of the Dempsey-Carpentier heavy-weight championship bout have announced that this contest would be preceded by one between Jack Dempsey and Jess Willard. The return match between Dempsey and Willard is to take place on March 17, according to a statement made by Dempsey in Montreal.

It is known, however, that such a match has been in the making for some time, and a definite announcement is expected.

Willard and many of his supporters have been clamoring for a return battle against Dempsey, but tentative arrangements made several months ago were sidetracked for the Dempsey-Carpentier match.

It is stated on good authority that the Dempsey and Carpentier contract will permit Carpentier to engage in fistic battles in Europe and Dempsey in America before their clash next summer. Neither can invade the pugilistic territory of the other prior to the championship fight.

A clause will provide that in case either Carpentier or Dempsey is defeated previous to their meeting in the ring the contract which they signed will become null and void.

Princeton Hurdler Visitor In Shanghai

Captain Carl Erdman Of 1920 Tiger Track Team Here For Short Stay

Carl Erdman, captain of the Princeton University track team last season and one of the best hurdlers in the United States, is in Shanghai for a short stay. Erdman is on a trip around the world with a Raymond-Whitcomb party and will be here for another week.

The Princeton captain was a star both in preparatory school and college, rounding out a great career by his performance in England last Spring when he won from the pick of Oxford and Cambridge hurdlers both in the low and high hurdle races. The trip of the Princeton team to England prevented Erdman from representing the United States in the Olympic games at Antwerp.

JAPANESE COLLEGE TEAMS ARE EASY FOR BIG LEAGUERS

Keio And Waseda Nines Are Badly Beaten By American Ball Players

The American baseball teams now in Japan are hitting the ball in every sense of the word. Playing against Japan University nines, the combined American aggregation scored 38 runs in four games.

The first game ever played in Japan between two American professional big league teams was staged at the Waseda University Field on November 24 the Nationals defeating the American leaguers by a score of 2-1. The United States Charge d'Affaires, Mr. Edward Bell, threw the first ball.

The teams then combined to play Keio and Waseda. Keio was beaten 11 to 0 and 1 to 0 while Waseda was snowed under by scores of 16 to 2 and 10 to 2. Robertson pitched the 11-0 game with Keio and Ainsmith, the veteran, did the catching.

Secretary John Potter of the Shanghai Amateur Baseball Club expects a telegram from Japan today advising that the American professionals will play here. A proposition has been submitted to the Japanese in charge of the tour.

Captain Carnaghan Wins Revolver Competition; Ten Make Rating As Marksmen

Skipper Of "Poyang" Scores 173 In Four Minutes And 40 Seconds And Goes To "Expert" Class; Chatom Is Second

Captain J. G. Carnaghan of the steamship Poyang won the experts' medal at the November revolver competition conducted by the Shanghai Miniature Rifle and Revolver Club and he will compete in the experts' class in future competitions. Captain Carnaghan made a score of 173. Paul Chatom of the American Company, S.V.C., was second and Commander G. B. Hartford, R. N., was third.

Conditions of the competition were: five shots at 15 yards with the left hand, five shots at 20 yards with either hand and ten shots at 25 yards with either hand. The time limit for loading and firing the 20 shots was five minutes. Targets with two inch inner and four-inch outer bullseyes were used.

Captain Carnaghan scored his 173 in four minutes and 40 seconds while both Chatom and Commander Hartford used but four minutes of the alotted five.

It is announced that the December competition will be an all comers' revolver and pistol championship shoot for any revolver or pistol over .22 calibre. Fifty shots will be allowed at 20 yards.

PRELIMINARY COMPETITION

Nine contestants got into the marksman class by their performances in the November preliminary competition. Competitors were allowed ten shots at 15 yards, and ten shots at 20 yards, using either hand. There was no time limit. A score of 150 points is the qualifying total. Lieut. R. R. Beauchamp, R. N., was high man with 175 while R. H. Fairley scored 171.

There was no competition in the expert's class.

The summaries follow:

GIRLS' HOCKEY TEAM TO INVADE FOREIGN LANDS

Philadephia Lassies Sail For Series In England, Ireland And Scotland

Another Yankee invasion of Europe is under way. Spurred by the success of the American Olympic team, the Philadelphia Hockey Club is sending a team, composed entirely of women, across the pond to gather new laurels.

The little group, under the management of Miss Gertrude Hearn and captained by Miss Elizabeth Cheston, left New York on the liner Caronia. The girl hockeyists will play a series of six games in England, are booked in Ireland and Scotland and have several tentative engagements in other European countries.

"THE CONFESSION"

PITCHER CICOTTE IS NOT PUNISHED; TURNS EVIDENCE

Chicago Star Pitcher Banished From Organised Baseball Forever

Chicago, November 16.—Eddie Cicotte, star pitcher for the Chicago White Sox, probably will not be punished for his connection with the baseball scandal. He will turn state's evidence at the trial of a number of those who have been indicted on charges of "fixing" games in the world's series of 1919.

Cicotte's sentence, it is said, will be banishment from organised baseball forever.

According to the state's attorney and other officials, Cicotte's confession is necessary for the conviction of the others indicated.

Yankees To Remain At The Polo Grounds For Indefinite Term

The Yankees will not have to build a new ball park at the end of next season. They will use the Polo Grounds during 1922 also, and it is possible they will be permitted to play there for an indefinite period.

It has been announced that an agreement to this effect had been reached between Charles A. Stoneham, president of the Giants, and Colonel Jacob Ruppert, president of the Yankees. The Yankees have therefore abandoned their plans for a new stadium.

CROSS COUNTRY SEASON STARTS TOMORROW WITH TRAINING RUN; HARRIERS CLUB ELECTS OFFICERS

Hill And Dale Men Will Travel Easy Four Miles As Opener For Year; Harriers Club Chooses Reneman As Captain

The local cross-country season starts tomorrow afternoon when some 20 hill and dale men will do a four-mile jaunt behind Captain C. C. Reneman of the Shanghai Harriers' Club. The run will not be a hard one and everyone interested in the cross country game are invited to be on hand.

The season's opening was formally fixed for tomorrow at the annual meeting of the Harriers Club held yesterday afternoon at the Rowing Club when the organisation heard about the 1920-1921 plans from Acting Chairman F. S. Bridges, who presided at the annual session. Mr. Bridges took the chair in the absence of Mr. E. C. Pearce, the president, who was unable to attend the meeting.

OFFICERS ARE ELECTED

The acting chairman, who efficiently acted as the Club's secretary last year, outlined the big things done by the organisation last season and urged even greater interest in cross country running this year.

At the meeting last night officers were elected as follows: President—Mr. E. C. Pearce; Vice-president—Mr. H. D. Rodger, Captain, Mr. C. C. Reneman, Vice-Captain—Mr. W. G. Noodt. The new committee includes Mr. F. S. Bridges, chairman, and Messrs. M. Seredkin, B. Lawrie Smith, G. A. S. Alves, W. M. C. Woodfield, G. Watson, H. Champney, P. S. Hyndman, C. J. Shout, J. J. Ellis and G. McLauen.

The veteran Tom McKenna, who was one of the leading factors in the rejuvenation of cross-country running here, will act as secretary of the Harriers' this season.

PLAN INTER-CLUB RACES

The schedule for the coming year and other details of the season's program will be discussed at a meeting of the new committee which will probably be held early next week.

Inter-club runs are planned between the Harriers and Nanyang College and a race will probably be arranged with the Chin Woo Athletic Association. St. John's University started the hill-and-dale sport last year and the Harriers are hoping that the collegians at Jessfield will be ready for a race late in the season. Training runs or races will be held weekly beginning tomorrow.

Mr. H. D. Rodger, who was elected vice-president of the Club at the meeting yesterday, is expected to return to Shanghai tomorrow on the Empress. He has been away six months.

PEKING READY TO ACCEPT YUNNAN'S TERMS, SAYS CHIN

General Chin Yun-peng, the Acting Premier, has addressed General Tang Chi-yao, Commander-in-Chief of the Yunnan Forces, a replying telegram in which the following points are embodied:

That the Central Government has been all along cherishing the lofty ideal of bringing about a genuine national reunion so as to render satisfaction to all contending parties. That the Central Government considered it inexpedient to adopt forcible means to accomplish this end. That during the recent clash of arms between the potential factors in Yunnan and Szechuen, the Central Government has not even changed its original attitude. That the Central Government has entertained the decisive intention of accepting certain terms advanced by General Tang Chi-yao. That the Central Government cannot see the secret of bringing about a genuine national union in the absence of a genuine reconciliation being arrival at between the respective hostile factions. That the Central Government has issued identical orders to the High Authorities in Szechuen to take all possible steps to restrict the activities of the Szechuen forces so as to avoid further skirmishes from taking place between themselves and the Yunnan forces. That since the Central Government considered it one of its cardinal duties to establish true peace throughout the whole Republic, it is therefore anticipated that the burning question of today will meet with the approval and support of the Yunnan leader. In conclusion, the Acting Premier expressed his desire with utmost earnestness that General Tang Chi-yao should not turn a deaf ear to all these persuasions which are made in the interests of all parties concerned. General Tang's reply in the affirmative is solicited.

CHINA MERCHANTS MAY CONTRACT EOR BIGGER STEAMERS

A resolution to purchase three ocean steamers to ply between Pengpu, Shanghai, Amoy, Swatow, Hongkong and Canton was introduced by Mr. Chen Tao-tsai at the meeting of the directors of the China Merchants' Steam Navigation Co. yesterday. The meeting was for the discussion of the salvage of the ill-fated vessel, the Kwangtah, at the conclusion of which Mr. Chen made the motion.

In introducing the resolution, Mr. Chen stated that the reason why the China Merchants were unable to compete with foreign shipping companies was due to the lack of sea-going vessels. Jardine's had four such vessels, he said, while the China Navigation Company had five. He pointed out that the addition was imperative and he would suggest a loan for the construction of the big steamers if necessary.

Much Opium Seized In Raid By Police

Five Chinese were arrested and a large quantity of opium and smoking paraphernalia was seized in a raid made by the police on a house at 757 Burkill Road Wednesday night.

The raid was conducted by Detective Sergeant Kiloh following the receipt of an anonymous letter. Three rooms in the house were found fitted up for opium smoking and 80 tins of opium were discovered in one of the rooms, ten others being found in another room.

The proprietor of the place, a woman, was absent when the raid was made and the Mixed Court yesterday ordered a warrant to issue for her arrest and other warrants for two of the five arrested who failed to appear in court yesterday.

CUSTOMS NOTIFICATION

No. 955.

DRAWBACKS TO BE PAID BY CHEQUE AFTER 1st JANUARY, 1921.

Acting under instructions from the Inspector General of Customs, I hereby notify the public that beginning from the 1st January, 1920, all Drawbacks, whether for foreign or for native re-exports and Special Drawbacks, will be issued in the form of cheques payable at sight and in cash at the Bank of China, No. 3, Hankow Road. Chinese Drawback Certificates as issued at present will no longer be issued after 31st December nor accepted in payment of duties after that date. Such Drawback Certificates issued on or before 31st December, 1920, and remaining unused after that date will have to be presented to the Drawback Office to be exchanged for cheques.

Drawbacks due to a merchant will be paid in instalments twice a month by means of one Drawback Money Order (i. e. cheque). These cheques will be cashed on presentation by the merchants to the Bank of China. Merchants will be required to keep a "Drawback Register" similar to that kept, and according to the form prescribed, by the Customs. A pro forma page of the new "Drawback Register" to be used will be issued to merchants on application at the Drawback Office so as to enable them to have their Registers printed and bound before 1st January Next. When desiring to claim Drawbacks a merchant should proceed to the Drawback Office and there present his "Register" for comparison with the Customs Register.

From the 2nd to the 7th and from the 16th to the 21st of each month merchants are requested to bring their Registers to the Drawback Office to be checked. No cheques will be issued during these two periods. Cheques will be issued during the periods from the 8th to the 15th and from the 22nd to the end of each month.

Merchants should endeavour to claim Drawbacks, i.e. compare Registers, and cash their cheques within three months from the date of re-export. The Bank of China has been instructed not to accept Drawbacks in payment of duties after 31st December next and not to cash cheques, issued under the new system and presented for payment after the prescribed three months' limit, without special authority from the Commissioner of Customs.

The above system of paying all Drawbacks in cash is experimental and will be withdrawn if found unsatisfactory. It is hoped that merchants will do their best to co-operate with the Customs in making it a success.

The procedure concerning Re-export Applications and Applications for Special Drawbacks remains unchanged.

Further particulars may be had on application at the Drawback Office.

L. A. LYALL,
Commissioner of Customs.

Exchange Market

Messrs. Maitland, Fearon and Brand write as follows in their Exchange Circular for week ending Wednesday, December 1:

Exchange:—The London price of silver at 43⅞d. is 3¼d. lower than last week's price, but 5¼d. lower than the highest price touched during the week 49⅛d. The drop in the last two days in November is reported to have been due to forced sales for the "end of the month" settlement.

Our rate for T.T. on London followed silver and at 4/4d. is 4d. down. There has again been a good demand for Gold Remittances. Anticipating a reaction in Silver our local Gold Dealers today came out profit taking by sales of T.T. on London and the market closes firm with 4/5⅛d. offering for T.T. on London forward delivery. The drop brought out very little Export paper and while this position continues the undertone of our exchange market cannot be strong.

Our stocks of Silver are reported as follows:

Sycee and Bar Silver Tls. 34,033,000 a decrease of Tls. 1,725,000.

Chinese and Mexican Dollars $26,860,000 practically unchanged.

Estimated value in Taels 53,640,009.

Stock of silver on December 3, 1919 Taels 26,000,000.

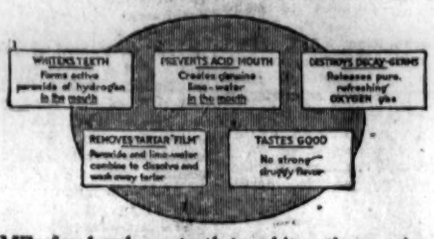
"THE CONFESSION"

Five Dentifrice Features in One

(Newest ideas of all dentifrices combined in Calox



WHITENS TEETH
Forms active peroxide of hydrogen in the mouth
PREVENTS ACID MOUTH
Creates genuine lime-water in the mouth
DESTROYS DECAY-GERMS
Releases pure, refreshing OXYGEN gas
REMOVES TARTAR FILM
Peroxide and lime-water combine to dissolve and wash away tartar
TASTES GOOD
No strong druggy flavor

SOME of us brush our teeth to whiten them; others to prevent decay and still others to refresh the mouth. Many believe they have acid-mouth or wish to remove the "crust of tartar" which is forming.

Regardless of why you brush your teeth, study the chart above and decide whether the dentifrice you are now trying will do or is doing all that you can reasonably expect from a dentifrice.

If it is, continue to use it faithfully. If it is good for only one of the duties of a good dentifrice, you had better try McK & R Calox, which combines in one dentifrice most of the features of all modern dentifrices.

If you haven't heard the story of McK & R Calox—how it forms real lime-water in your mouth to prevent acids—how it creates fresh active peroxide on the teeth every time you brush them—how it releases genuine oxygen gas which penetrates into every crevice and "gasses" the dangerous decay-germs into harmlessness, if you don't know this story of the victory of modern science, send for "The McK & R Calox Story."

Your dentist will recommend McK & R Calox to you and your druggist has it. Try it next time you need a dentifrice.

The taste is a surprise to most people. It is not the least bit "druggy" which proves that it is possible to make a pleasant tasting dentifrice and that a "strong" taste does not prove the efficiency of any paste or powder.

Christmas Money

WE wish today to call the special attention of parents and school teachers to our Christmas Money Contest For Children. This contest was announced in last Sunday's issue of THE CHINA PRESS and it will be closed at noon on Wednesday, December 8—next Wednesday. We understand that it has aroused a good deal of interest and that a number of children are preparing stories. But we want all between the ages of 10 and 16 to try themselves out in the vast and beautiful realm of fiction.

For this is a fiction contest. Each story must have characters and a plot. Things must happen, good or evil, cheerful, pathetic, funny. If your child has never tried to write a story, this is an opportunity that it ought not to miss. And be assured that not only the child but the whole family will derive pleasure from the attempt.

What plots there are to be thought of! What characters to be created and developed! Just think of Tiny Tim and all the characters with which Dickens surrounded him, and what he had to say and what they had to say! And the things that happened!

Suppose a little Chinese boy or girl going to a foreign school heard of Santa Claus and told all about it at home. And nobody understood what he or she was talking about and everybody had a different idea and things got all mixed up but came out all right in the end. But only after the grandfather had tried to slide down the chimney and had frightened nearly everybody out of their wits! Isn't it interesting to think that the great people of China knew nothing about St. Nicholas until the Christians came among them?

But before starting to write your story, be sure to read the details of the contest which we republish today on page one.

A Southern Missouri Industry

(From the Fayette Advertiser)

A rattlesnake ranch, the only one of its kind in the country, is located on Indian Creek; five miles from Anderson, in the fastness of the Ozarks. The ranch is managed by Miss Ahearn assisted by her sixteen-year-old brother. They look after the entire business of snake raising except for occasionally hiring an Indian who is willing to take the risk of capturing a rattlesnake alive. The ranch now has 600 snakes in the pits. The principal profits of the enterprise come from the sale of the poison extracted from the rattlesnakes, which is sold to healers. A large revenue is derived from the sale of the snakes to menageries and museums at the established rate of 50 cents a pound. The smaller snakes are killed and their flesh rendered for the rattlesnake oil, which sells for $1 an ounce.

A man, though he can pile his cash in heaps,
Is known by the cigars he gives away.

THE ISLE OF MAN, AND A WOMAN

A lady was telling her doctor that her maid objected to going to the Isle of Wight again, as the climate "was not embracing enough," and added, "What am I to do with such a woman?" The doctor replied, "You had better take her to the Isle of Man."

AS YOU LIKE IT

An old Scotch laird used to say he didn't care how he dressed when in London, "because nobody knew him there." And he didn't care how he dressed at home "because everybody knew him."

DIGNITY

The Reverend T. Dewitt Talmage was once taken to task by a country preacher at a Chautauqua for his lack of dignity.

The man explained kindly but frankly, that the way Talmage opened his mouth, and swung his arms was anything but graceful.

Talmage listened with patience and at last asked the preacher the amount of his salary.

The answer was "Six hundred dollars a year."

"How many people do you preach to?"

"Oh, about a hundred."

Then Talmage asked him how he should repeat certain passages of Scripture according to the critics ideas. The kind gentleman explained, and offered to put Talmage through a little needed drill in elocution. And Talmage said: "Why if I spoke in that way, I'd be just like you. I, too, would preach to a hundred people and get just your pay!" But the party never saw the point.

THEY DEVOUR WIDOWS' HOUSE

I was asked yesterday if I knew of a cheap house to let. I would have laughed if the affair had not been so tragic. A poor wretch of a woman, who has worked for years to keep a couple of decent rooms in town—and for which she pays $100 a month has suddenly been confronted by the landlord, whose cigars cost more than that a month, and is told that in the near future she will have to pay $150 if she wants to stay.

There must be a particularly warm corner beyond the veil for some of these profiteers.

THESE HARD TIMES

"We live in a time when humanity is throbbing with new ideals and new aspirations, when especially one fresh hope animates the world, that in the near future the hard lot of the suffering millions who bear the burden of earth's toil shall be ameliorated. We are not worthy to live in this generation—I dare to say it—if we have no share in this hope."—HUDSON SHAW.

WHY

Oh! why and for what are we waiting
While our brothers droop and die,
And on every wind of heaven
A wasted life goes by?
How long shall they reproach us
As crowd on crowd they dwell,
Poor ghosts of the wicked city,
The gold-crushed hungry hell!

• • •

They are gone! There is none can undo it,
Nor save our souls from the curse;
But many a million cometh,
And shall they be better or worse?

WISDOM AND FOLLY

"Wisdom opens our eyes to the miserable spectacle of the countless ills flesh is heir to: infirmity, disease and death; besides all that man inflicts upon his fellow—a prospect that has to many sages made suicide sweet and welcome. Were wisdom less rare, all would act thus, and the race would become extinct. The truly happy are the votaries of Folly, on whom shame, disgrace, abuse, fall pointless. Her blessed illusions are what bind men to life and give them joy."

From "Praise of Folly" by ERASMUS.

Bertrand Russell's Lectures At Changsha

(Central China Post)

(Concluded from Yesterday)

The third lecture practically overflowed into the fourth so that the review of the necessities for successful Communism was compressed into half a lecture.

Everywhere in Russia, said the lecturer, you found standing idle railway engines, and yet the problem of transport was one of the most pressing. In answer to the question "Why do you not repair it?" they were told that certain parts were broken and these could not be manufactured in Russia. Further investigation showed that not only had it been impossible to do in Russian factories all that could be done in those of other countries, even the best of such things as had been done, had only been possible by skilled direction obtained from non-Russians. These foreign overseers were mostly Germans before the War; British or American after. When the second revolution occurred, few if any of these foreigners were found to proclaim themselves as Communists; even those who did, were strongly suspected of not really being so. A few could possibly have been used, but even that few were subject to suspicious espionage which in no wise conduced to make their work the better. If the second revolution had been carried out without opposition, and had not rendered itself obnoxious to foreign countries, it would have been difficult to maintain the pre-war out-put of the factories. But instead of being unopposed, the Bolshevists found themselves obliged to devote almost the whole of their powers for manufacturing to supplying the needs of war and added to all internal difficulties, came the blockade. It was hard to grasp the utter breakdown which had taken place in Russian industrial life. Practically nothing was bring produced that was needed by the people. An altogether inadequate supply of boots and clothing, and those of very inferior quality, was almost the only thing that could be seen offered to sale as manufactured in Russia. The Blockade had effectually restricted manufactured goods from many lands, some of which were neutral in the war.

Three classes of people had to be withdrawn from the possible factory hands—soldiers, munition workers and government officials. The soldiers though recruited by a strictly enforced conscription had to be kept in as good-tempered a frame as possible and therefore their wants were a primary requisite. The fact that war today meant enormously greater dependence on factories than had ever been the case before was dwelt on. The supply of skilled workers was not great, of skilled teachers and directors still less; almost the whole of such supply as there was, had perforce to be drafted into factories for supply of munitions and other military stores. The fact that communist governments do much more governing than any other form, laid it under the necessity of employing many more officials who produced nothing useful to the community but who had to be supplied with all that they had to use themselves.

The imagination would not after all these considerations exaggerate the chaos and confusion in the Russian industrial world today. Its depleted ranks could only be kept as they are by a conscription as unbending as any other form of conscription. Although the hours of labor are nominally shorter than they used to be, they are not really so in practice, because it is impossible to earn enough in the regulation working hours to support oneself or one's family. Sixteen hours a day is no unusual thing for the present day Russian working man, and even then he is only able to afford the coarsest food and an insufficient quantity of that. It is no wonder that the factory hands long to get away to the country. This is a desertion that is only less severely punished than desertion from the army. First offenders are brought back again as soon as possible; second offenders are put in prison. No one is allowed to strike. Sabotage is punished with imprisonment and seeing that sabotage includes suspected inferior work, or insufficient quantity of output, the chances of imprisonment are many.

Just as factory work is unduly interfered with by military pressure so also is transport. As unrepairable engines increase, so the possibilities of transport decrease; but the military share of the transport decreases much less than any other share. The consequence is that, even though Russia can produce abundantly sufficient food, the cities are starving. The better food of the country is an ever present attraction to "desert" from factory work. Even after making much necessary allowance for the difficulties of transport, there still remains proof that the governing authorities have not made the best of what they could get. The peasants will not part with their food stuff for nothing; they do not take long to find out that paper money is worth nothing. They ask for various manufactured goods; but even their necessary implements are not forthcoming. Ignorant and uneducated, they know nothing about the difficulties of the government; all that they know is that the present government does not supply their needs as the former government did.

In a belt of thirty miles radius round Moscow, sufficient food for all its inhabitants is produced. But Bolshevism has no initiative in devising other means of transport than the trains, which are not now forthcoming in the absence of engines, and the astonishing fact happens that Moscow starves in the midst of comparative plenty. There is any amount of wood in the forests that could be used for making all sorts of road vehicles. On the Volga banks great herds of horses are running almost wild that could be used to haul the wagons—but nothing at all is being done on these lines. The fuel question is almost as urgent as the food question during the intolerably cold months of Russia's long winters. House after house in Moscow has no firing and yet Moscow is surrounded with forests. Mr. Russell states that he saw no coal whatever while he was in Russia. The former sources of coal were the parts of Russia now incorporated in Poland or the mines in the South which were flooded by Denikin before he gave up that part of the country. It is no wonder that the Bolshevik authorities did not expect to retain office much more than two months and are somewhat astonished to find themselves still alive at the end of two years.

The last lecture was an attempt to examine the problem scientifically. Leaving out of the question likes or dislikes of Communism what can be learnt from the Russian revolution with regard to the things that are necessary before a communist revolution can be expected to be successful.

Universal Communism would be a different problem from the problem presented by one communist in the midst of capitalist countries. No such single country can expect anything but hostility from its capitalist neighbors. It follows therefore that the would-be communist land must be self-contained as regard both agriculture and industry. It must not only be able to produce all the food it needs, it must be able to manufacture all the implements its agriculturists need. It must be dependent for no necessary thing on any foreign country. The world has but one such country—America. Suppose for example that England tried to be communist and commenced by confiscating all American property and repudiating all debts due to America. A blockade against food and cotton reaching England from America would bring the country to death's door within six months.

The impossibility of permanently establishing Communism in a land the majority of whose inhabitants were not Communists was next dwelt on. Until the enmity of other lands had been overcome, such a land must face hardships. It would need all its people to be well educated to understand the reason for such hardships; they must needs be Communists to loyally accept the hardships.

How to make a majority of Communists was then dealt with. All forms of forcing conviction were dismissed. The truth of Communism must be sufficient—in the lecturer's view, was sufficient—to secure conviction if only patient continuance in teaching is kept on. Hitherto Communism has trusted to arguments of escape through Communism from misery. It is interesting to note how the nations are affected by the late War: the more western they are, the more victorious they were and the less are they influenced by Communism. The most victorious nation was America; somewhat less than America comes Britain. After that, at a greater distance, come France and Italy. Then follow the defeated central nations and worst of all come the Russians. This is their order in their leaning to Communism. What use is it to go to a working man in America who owns his own motor car and ask him to become as a Russian working man? If you can take up the ground that happy as is the American working man, he would be still happier if he were a Communist you have something to go on. But if Communism has to depend on defeat in war for its spread, its outlook is not bright.

Seeing that every failure to establish Communism must tell against Communism, it would be better policy to merely work on quietly and patiently than attempt impossibilities and so render the realisation of Communism farther off than ever.

A most interesting word of warning was added with regard to Russian Bolshevist propaganda outside Russia. We were told that there was certainly much effort expended in the south and eastern part of Asia to spread Bolshevist ideas. Mr. Russell disclaimed any information on the subject of China, or any proof of allegations concerning Bolshevist activities in Japan; but he distinctly held that any such activities must be viewed in the light of Russia's past intercourse with Asia. The Russians felt themselves able to rule Asiatics; liked ruling Asiatics. They would do all they could to spread "nationalist" views in India and in Egypt—but once those ideas were successful in turning England out, the result would be the entering of Russia rather than the home-rule of nationalism.

Up The Ladder Of Likes

BY THE SPECTATOR

The most irritating, maddening trait of character in any one we love is his hopeless acceptance of his likes and dislikes as final. It means that he is closed, sealed, boxed and battened and cannot grow. It is death in life. It is intellectual and spiritual suicide.

The young girl walks through the art gallery and deals out her judgments with aggravating finality. She likes this; that does not appeal to her. She sweeps the judgment of centuries airily aside. Does it ever occur to her that her main concern there ought to be to learn what to like and how to like it

The boy comes home from school and announces that he does not like history. He takes to botany, yes, but cannot abide French. His sister likewise informs us that she is fond of music, but does not care for chemistry. And flabby minded parents receive these statements as the decrees of destiny! Does it ever occur to them that children go to school to learn how to like the best things?

For teachers and textbooks are not supplied to young folks merely to furnish them with facts. The main purpose is to furnish them with tastes.

If a man likes to sit around in the back room of a saloon and play pinochle and does not care for going to see "As You Like It," it is something to be ashamed of and something that can be helped. If he prefers the vaudeville to hearing a lecture by Griggs or Zeublin, it is not because the fates have decreed it; he cannot say truthfully that it is no fault of his. For it is his fault. Let him learn better!

It is certainly worth your while to cultivate high tastes. For they make your spirit strong against the petty cares and distractions.

The difference between a naked savage in the Australian bush and a man who has gone through our schools is not that one wears a loin cloth and the other a frock-coat, nor that one eats raw meat and the other cooked meat, but that one has few desires and the other has many and complicated desires. Civilisation means the development of the race's wants. The noble redman that roamed the Connecticut valley at the time Miles Standish lived in Massachusetts desired only to eat, drink and kill. The present inhabitants of those regions want high schools, libraries, theatres and churches.

This old world mounts slowly up the ladder of desires. Still, it mounts. We want more justice and less cruelty than we did in the days of Richard Coeur de Lion. The millions of America want schools. Those of the middle ages wanted what is well expressed in the verse of Bishop Still:

"Back and side go bare, go bare,
Both foot and hand go cold;
But, belly, God send thee good ale enough
Whether it be new or old!"

We really desire freedom nowadays, but for some thousands of years we only wanted kind kinds. The earth is coming into a quite real and universal craving for peace; it never wanted any other glory but war until recently. Our whole commercial system today rests upon credit; credit means honesty. Never before in history has the trading class felt the absolute need of integrity, truth-telling and the keeping of one's word. The great world, therefore, does not "spin forever down the ringing grooves of change." It is rolling up, not down. And its progress upward is not only from horse to locomotive, letters to telephones, grate fires to steam radiators, pens to typewriters; it is from lower wants to higher.

The millennium is not going to be manufactured by getting new laws, new kinds of politics, new houses and the like, but by the steady growth of new wishes. The golden age will be here when we have arrived at the stage where men want justice, truth, honor and mercy in perfect sincerity.

And the rise of the world is by the same road as the rise of the individual. More money, a better house and clothes and food, better laws and neighbors all help in their way, but the real progress of our lives from the hog to the angel, from the barbarian to the civilised man, is our deliberate cultivation of the growth in us of a better kind of desires.

You can change your tastes. Do it. Drop the company of low people. There are plenty high-minded. Linger among the best books. Persist in hearing the best music and looking at the best pictures. High tastes are not for certain "elect" souls. They are for all.

Runyon Tells Of An Optimist

BY DAMON RUNYON

Optimism is a wonderful asset. The man who is always hopeful and cheerful has a little the best of life.

Optimism has made many a man rich. I know a number of wealthy mining men, out in my home country, who found their fortunes by prospecting where others said there could not possibly be any gold.

I know men who have made various forms of business pay because they were optimistic enough to see a field in which other men saw only failure. It is optimism that has helped generals win great victories on the field of battle against what seemed hopeless odds.

All of this sounds as if it might be one of those Lectures On the Obvious, but it is really merely preamble to telling you about my friend, Hemingway, the Optimist.

I must tell you about Hemingway.

Hemingway is the most optimistic man I ever saw in my life.

In fact, he is so optimistic that he is by way of being a pest. I appreciate the beauties of optimism, but I feel that it has certain limitations. For instance, I have permitted Hemingway to induce me to go to restaurants where I know the food will be bad, on his hopeful representations that it may be good.

I feel confident that I am right, but Hemingway can paint such promising pictures, and is so cheerfully certain that everything will turn out well that he often overcomes my better judgment.

I am not by nature an optimist. I am more inclined to see the darker sides of a situation. If the sky is cloudy I feel reasonably certain that it is going to rain. Hemingway, on the other hand, will insist that it will clear off, and when it does rain he says it will not last long, and, anyway, that it's good for the farmers.

If a man tells me there is no gold in yonder hills, because of the nature of the terrain, or what-not, I am apt to take his word for it. Hemingway, on the contrary, would smile idiotically and go out and wear out half a dozen picks and shovels digging in the ground.

If we are going to a show, Hemingway always goes with the idea that it is going to be a great show, although we may have many warnings from other friends that the show is terrible, and that we are just wasting our time.

I admit a professional pessimist is a terrific pest. But I say a professional optimist can get very pesty, too.

I remember one time they got a famous Dartmouth football player to go to Denver to play a little football on a professional team, this being after the Dartmouth man was through college, of course.

In Denver they claim 365 days of sunshine.

One morning, after he had been there about a week, the football player ran up the shade in his room at the Denver Athletic Club, peered out for an instant, ran the shade down again, and moaned in disgust:

"There's that d—n sunshine again!"

The eternal sunshine of Hemingway's disposition finally wore on my nerves. I thought to myself that it would be a relief if he would only have one blur of glumness, or despondency, but it was several years before I finally located a chink in the shining armor of his optimism.

One night we had been knocking around together and Hemingway had been chattering like a blithe canary and seeing rays of hope in every situation, when finally I said, yawning:

"Well, let's go home!"

Then, to my amazement, Hemingway said, gloomily:

"Oh, I don't want to go home. The house will be cold and the chances are my wife'll be up and ask me a million questions, and if I want to get anything to eat there won't be anything fit to put in my stomach, and I won't be able to sleep on account of the noise. What's the use of going home?"

Boulon On Witness Stand In American Court Answers Charges Of Embezzlement

credited to Yea Kong Yung, Tls. 22.91 was an error. That makes up the total, I believe, of Tls. 12,250.54.

Q—Now these contracts in question, some of them had the Chinese name written across them. What was the purpose of that? Those written in Chinese.

A—For guaranteeing. The purpose was that if the exchange was taken up while I was away from Shanghai and there was any difference at all it would be made up by this Chinese firm.

Q—Now these contracts have references on them "For Sung," what was the purpose of that reference? First of all I will ask whether that reference was put on there at the same time your initials were put on?

A—They were not.

Q—At a later date?

A—Yes.

Q—What was the purpose of that notation?

A—That was a notation that I had put on myself while these contracts were remaining on my desk. I would first ask the compradore department if they would guarantee an exchange contract for me for the purpose which I have given. The second compradore stated that as Mr. Chen was away from Shanghai he would not care to go into this as the amount involved might mean a considerable sum. I then asked Mr. Tsu, the No. 1. shroff if he could get one or two people who would be willing to guarantee a contract and asked him at the suggestion of the compradore's department. He came back later and stated that he thought he could get several persons to do so and I noted on one of the contracts that was open at that time the fact that if I could not have the contract guaranteed, it would be by Mr. Sung of Yea Kong Yung. I said that contract before I really had occasion to ask Yea Kong Yung or anybody else to guarantee it. Those notations on there were put on there by me for the purpose of reminding me that I could get Mr. Tsu to guarantee the account if it was necessary.

Q—And it was put on there between the date of purchase and the sale?

A—Put on I would say between June 10 and June 22, at which time the exchange had been at its weakest point and was very firm, going up.

Q—Now did any other person have any interest in the exchange contracts you have just referred to?

A—Yes.

Q—Explain to us what the nature of that interest was? First what parties had an interest?

A—Mr. Shaw Yook See of Ching Tai Chang.

Q—And what other persons?

A—No other person had a financial interest in it.

Q—What was the nature of his interest?

A—I first asked him to get a guarantor. I saw Mr. Shaw and also saw Mr. Tsu in the matter and they stated the amount involved was too great. If it was a smaller amount they would be willing to do it for nothing, but where a difference of a point or two points would mean one or two thousand taels without any definite knowledge as to when the money would be paid back to them and especially as native interest had reached 18, 20 and 22 percent they felt that they ought to have some consideration for doing it and at my own suggestion I stated that I would be willing to give them 1/3 of the profits if any resulted. The conditions were that the profits were to remain in my hands until after my return from New York which would be about the 15th or 20th of September. I then knew that I was due about the 10th of September.

Q—And did you reach an agreement with them regarding that?

A—Just a verbal understanding, nothing in writing.

Q—Was this arrangement made on each of these contracts referred to in Count 1?

A—No not all.

Q—On which contracts?

A—Contracts FF and GG.

Q—They were guaranteed by whom?

A—Guaranteed by Mr. Shaw through Mr. Tsu. Mr. Tsu did the signing for those three parties.

Q—Did you know whether or not he had authority to sign for them?

Q—Yes.

Q—Now you have testified here that you made a sale contract for £15,000, on June 15. When you made that sale contract what did you do with the contract?

A—I sent it in to the accounting department to Mr. Jones. I gave it to Mr. Jones personally.

Q—Any instructions given at that time?

A—Yes, that particular sale offset the purchase made on June 9, I believe it was. I wanted to liquidate it. The instructions given to Mr. Jones then was that I wanted a check for the difference between the £15,000 bought at 4s. 1d. and sold at 4s. 8d. and £10,000 sold on June 9.

Q—And did you state the amount of that check?

A—No. I told him it was about Tls. 9,100, the amount of the two transactions.

Q—That was on June 15th?

A—Yes.

Q—Did you receive the check on that date?

A—No. I did not.

Q—Did you thereafter receive a check for the amount?

A—Not for that amount, no.

Q—Did you afterwards receive a check from Mr. Jones purporting to cover that transaction?

A—Yes.

Q—For what amount?

A—For Tls. 12,250.54.

Q—How did you account for that check being for that amount?

A—I could not account for it then. I could only account for it as including four transactions and a mistake in calculation.

Q—Did you give any instructions to Mr. Jones to include four transactions?

A—I did not.

Q—Did you have any conversation with him at the time regarding that?

A—I did.

Q—What was the substance of that conversation?

A—When I received the check, it was for Tls. 12,250.54. I was rather surprised as I had expected somewhere between 9100 and 9,200 taels after taking out brokerage if it was taken out at the time. I asked him how he arrived at Tls. 12,250.54 and he said it included three or four transactions. I asked him what ones. He stated it included transactions previously credited to my account. There had been one which showed a profit of Tls. 969.89 which I thought had been credited to my account, there was a transaction which netted Tls. 1731.39 which had been credited on April 14 and there had been a sale made on the 7th of April which was credited to my account on May 1, amounting to Tls. 1,298.76.

Q—Did any three or four of these transactions total Tls. 12,250.54?

A—No. Any three was considerably less and any four was considerably more. There was no three or four that made up that amount.

Q—And what was the date that this check was handed you?

A—June 25.

Q—Did you ask for any statement?

A—I did. Mr. Jones stated that the check covered accounts that had been credited to my account and I asked him for a statement of the makeup of these figures.

Q—Did you tell Mr. Jones why you wanted the check?

A—No. I did not give him any particular reason why I wanted the check.

Q—Did you tell him who to make the check out to?

A—No, I did not give him any other instructions than what I usually stated, to liquidate this transactions and give me a check for it.

Q—Did you ask Mr. Jones to make it out to any particular party?

A—I have no knowledge of telling him to make it out in any one other than myself. I would not expect him to make it out to any one but myself.

Q—Did you ever get the statement that you asked for?

A—I did not.

Q—What did you do with this check for Tls. 12,250.54?

A—I gave it to Mr. Tsu Sung-seng.

Q—Why?

A—I had an object in giving it to him.

Q—What was that object?

A—These contracts were not guaranteed all at one time. The last time a contract was guaranteed by Mr. Tsu he stated that Mr. Shaw wanted some indication that previous contracts had been sold. I showed Mr. Tsu the exchange sales contracts as they were made. He stated he wanted some indication. He had been pressing me for a remittance, that I was going to give him a remittance then or some letter. When this check for Tls. 12,250.54 came to me from Mr. Jones, as I say I was rather surprised at the amount but Mr. Jones told me at the time it covered three or four of my transactions credited. I had already told Mr. Jones previously that I would return that money to the firm as a loan, that I so expected to receive for it, that I wanted to do that, as I was leaving for New York. When I asked Jones if he was certain that it covered such credits he said yes. I merely thought I would send this on to Shaw and get him to credit it to me for what I owed him and return the balance to Gaston, Williams & Wigmore as a loan. That it found its way into Yea Kong Yung's hands I did not know of that until after Mr. Tsu brought the cash back to me.

Q—Did you tell Mr. Tsu to take the check to Yea Kong Yung?

A—I did not. And even forgot the check was made out to Yea Kong Yung.

Q—Then Tsu left with the check and what did he bring back to you?

A—He brought back Tls. 12,000 on June 25, and I think three days later or two days later I received Tls. 125. and then the balance the third day. I received the balance of Tls 250 less interest in two payments.

Q—And what was done with the Tls. 12,000?

A—I immediately sent it in to Mr. Jones.

Q—Did you complete your arrangement with Mr. Shaw.

A—I have not. I have not completed my arrangement with him yet at all.

Q—Did you give him any receipt?

A—I did.

Q—Have you that receipt?

A—It is on the desk there among my papers.

Q—I show you Defts. Ex. 9 and ask you what it is?

Mr. Fleming: I object to that exhibit. Where is the man he gave a receipt to.

Mr. Haskell: He is dead.

A—It is a receipt for Tls. 12,000 received from Mr. Shaw, with certain notations on the receipt.

Q—When did you give that to Mr. Shaw?

A—He must have got that the 26th of June or 27th, I remember typing it up on the night of the 25th.

Q—And how does it come in your possession now?

A—I got it back last night from Shaw's son-in-law.

The spectacle of thousands of fellow creatures dying of starvation in a country of such vast agricultural resources as China is truly

APPALLING

Moved by common humanity, all of us have contributed handsomely according to our means in relief of this terrible calamity. But the distress is certain to go on all during the coming winter. We have therefore decided to contribute 3 cts. per dozen of the sale of Sodawater, "Crystallin" Table water, Lithia, Tonic water Seltzer, and Brom-Seltzer commencing from the 1st December and continuing till the distress has abated.

At first sight, this may not appear to be a large contribution. But remember, that in 1917 this firm was enabled to contribute $1,103.98 to the Allied War Funds from the sale of Sodawater alone. The sales will be checked by our books, each month, by a committee of our customers.

You now have an opportunity of contributing to a most worthy object, while at the same time enjoying a

Thanksgiving Service Held At Nanchang

(China Press Correspondence)

Nanchang Nov. 26.—The entire American community together with representatives from several other nations met last night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Terman to celebrate the Thanksgiving Festival. The occasion though social in nature had a distinctly serious note. The Rev. Vincent Gowan led the service.

The speaker first read President's Lincoln's proclamation which officially established the last Thursday of November of each year as a national holiday. He then turned his attention to China and said that many thought there was not much to be thankful for.

The famine, political quarrels, a dead student movement and an unstable government seemed to indicate that China was on the verge of complete ruin. Because of a lack of food and clothing millions of people were facing death.

The answer to this gloomy condition was to be found in the very birth of Thanksgiving Day. The Pilgrim Fathers faced death on the bitter New England coast, in hostile Indian tribes and in lack of food. Nevertheless they gave thanks to God for life and for freedom of speech and action.

President Lincoln issued the first Thanksgiving Proclamation in the midst of a civil war which was perhaps the darkest period of American history.

Obituary

MR. THOMAS A. NOUD

Mr. Thomas Alfred Noud, acting manager and secretary of the Tientsin Press, Ltd., died on November 29, at his home No. 4, Rue Courbet, Tientsin, after a very brief illness, a sharp attack of influenza being the cause of death.

Mr. Noud was only 34 years of age, and leaves a widow to mourn his loss. He attended to his business as usual on Monday and Tuesday, although not feeling well, and only took to his bed on Wednesday November 25. He was apparently doing fairly well but on Saturday evening he suffered a relapse and died just before midnight.

The funeral took place on November 29, at the Canton Road Cemetery.

Rule On Composition In A. C. Mack Case

The adjourned examination of Mr. A. C. Mack was continued in the British Supreme Court yesterday when Judge Skinner Turner formally approved a composition submitted on hebalf of creditors.

Mr. A. L. Dickson appeared as Official Receiver, and Mr. Langley Smith for the petitioning creditor, Mr. G. J. W. Morgan, Mr. Langley Smith questioned Mr. Mack at some length regarding money invested by his wife in the Purity Candy Store, the witness maintaining that he did not know where she obtained the money, but presumed that it came from his mother. He denied going to the Store and stating that he had money to invest but wished to invest it in his wife's name.

Mr. Langley Smith submitted that in view of the evidence Mrs. Mack should be called, by an order of the court. The Judge said that when he came into court he understood it was for the purpose of having a composition submitted to him. Mr. Dickson said that an arrangement had been approved at a meeting of creditors and Mr. Langley Smith now wished him to go on with that scheme. The Court, in approving the composition, pointed out that the matter could not be reopened.
